Having crossed the equator 30 November and the International Date Line on this day, 7 December, the POLLYWOGS of the BURTON ISLAND were brought before the Good King Neptune. Being committed for crimes ranging from impersonating a Petty Officer to peanut butter smeared on the door knobs of Senior Shellback's Quarters, the pollywogs had to pay for these crimes under the jurisdiction of Neptune and his court. The pollywogs, being of strong mind and body before the ceremonies commenced, were strong with the smell of hot sauce and protein foam upon completion of the event. So with sword in hand, Good King Neptune proudly admitted all pollywogs into the Order of the Shellbacks.
