

COAST GUARD COMMANDANT ADMIRAL ROBERT E. KRAHEK

On 01 June 1994, the Coast Guard gained a new Commandant, Admiral Robert E. Kramek. Admiral Kramek wasted no time taking over the duties of his new office by joining USCGC Dallas for the commemoration of the D-Day invasion in Europe. Though Admiral Kramek was onboard only for a short time, he was able to speak with most of the crew and was very impressed by the professional atmosphere and attitudes he encountered. Dallas was also very proud to have the new Commandant aboard for this historic moment.

(clockwise from upper right) Admiral Kramek taking a few minutes to look out to sea and reflect. Admiral Kramek addresses the members of the Dallas wardroom during dinner. Admiral Kramek in dress uniform for the Britannia wreath-laying ceremonies.

