

HAWAII

Honolulu, last stop before the homestead. Even though it was back in the United States it maintains an exotic, almost foreign air about it. We said goodbye to two passengers and picked up a slew of dependents awaiting passage to Seattle. After a few days of playing tourist we were, at last homeward bound.

