

With our bald heads glistening in the sun, we arrived at Guam Island on Friday the 16th of May where we received fuel and supplies. The men who went on liberty took on a large consumption of alcohol. One of the men had a misunderstanding with a few of the chiefs, but it was cleared up by the time he and his friends from shore patrol returned to the ship.

Ten hours after arriving, we departed the South Sea Isle of Guam enroute to the Philippines. We arrived in Subic Bay on the 21st of May, nesting alongside the Australian destroyer HMAS BRISBANE. Liberty was granted at 1500.
