Operations Department

It has been said that the 20th Century is the age of knowledge. It has also been related that an organization is only as good as its information or knowledge.

The Operations Department on board Westwind is in a sense "Mr. Information" or the hot word division. Basically, this department is concerned with the collection, evaluation and dissemination of all operational and combat information required for the assigned missions of Westwind. In addition, "O" Division is concerned with all matters related to the operation of Westwind and her assigned aircraft.

To accomplish this herculean task, the Department has been divided into seven separate sections; six of which are directly under the control of the Operations Officer. These sections — Communications, Combat Information Center, Electronics, Navigation, Aerology and Photography — perform the many and varied duties required to ensure Westwind completes her mission in an effective and successful manner. The seventh section, Ship's Office, is primarily responsible to the Executive Officer.
