

MARKET TIME CONTINUES

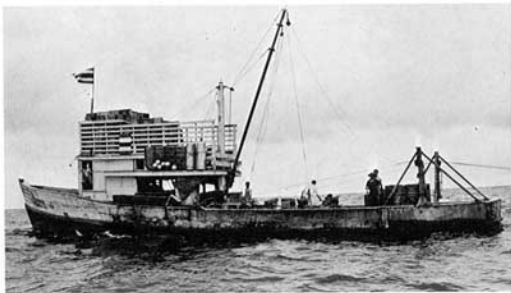

Between ports the YAK earned her bread and butter (and little else) by continuing boarding activities on Market Time. With the exception of one or two minor mishaps, the boarding team and boat lowering detail grew more proficient with each successive inspection and before long the evolution was conducted with the smoothness of a well-oiled machine.

"Now set Junk Inspection Condition II."

The bulk of boarding on Area Six was Chinats . . .

. . . while Thai trawlers were our best customers on Area Nine.
